

SecondBrain is a personal knowledge management system.
It lets users store notes and upload PDF documents.

Retrieval augmented generation combines search with a language model.
Chunking splits documents into smaller passages before embedding.